Currently only versions of the Matched Edition are available. One Microsoft Word 2003 file is the source of all versions (web and PDF formats.) Page numbers and page divisions do not transfer to the web/htm version: horizontal lines are entered after the htm file is created. PDF files' left margin bookmarks are also entered after the individual PDF files are created. If you don't find them, you are looking at a very recent update. They will be added. (21 August 2009)

If this book succeeds in arousing in my younger relatives, an interest in their antecedents and an ambition to become their worthy successors, I shall be happy and shall consider my efforts well worthwhile. And to all my relatives, past, present, and future, this record is happily and lovingly dedicated.

FOREWORD

The family of Grimes or Grymes is an old one in English records. Just how old is not known, definitely, by this writer. The Grimes coat of arms was granted to Thomas Grimes of London in the year 1575. The Grimes and Grymes names come from the Scandinavian word Grim or Grym. But the "i" and the "y" in the spelling of this name are used interchangeably and indifferently. The Grimes or Grymes family is of noble lineage. From Vol. 27, page 184, of the Virginia Magazine of History and Biography one reads: "Sir Thomas Grimes (Grymes) of Peckham, England, was knighted January 2, 1603." A grandson, Sir Thomas Grimes (Grymes) II, was born in the year 1638, and his eldest son, Sir Thomas Grimes (Grymes) III, had a son, William Grimes, who came to the Virginia Colony about the year 1725 or 1730. In Virginia at about this time was a Dr. William Grimes, physician and surgeon, but there seems to be no records proving, one way or the other, if they were the same person. Also there was a William Thomas Grimes in Virginia at about this period. Records indicate that he was a person of prominence since he was selected to serve on various committees in connection with affairs of state.

Representatives of the Grimes name came early to Virginia. Just how early is not precisely known, but an educated guess would be about 1615, for sometimes between 1615 and 1623, 20,000 acres of land had been granted to 70 proprietors near Charles City, Virginia. Among these 70 proprietors was George Grimes, the first representative of the Grimes name in Virginia. The first Grymes to arrive in Virginia was Charles Grymes in the year 1632 or 1633. According to The First Republic in America, page 619, George Grimes died in Charles City, Virginia, in the year 1623.

The next representative of the Grimes name to come to Virginia was John Grimes, who was in a company of twenty-four immigrants who came to James City, Virginia, July 2, 1635. And a few years later, February 21, 1647, Robert Grimes was in Norfolk County, Virginia. Whether or not Robert Grimes is a son of John Grimes of James City, 1635, is not known for certain. What is known is that Robert Grimes named his son (first child) John. This could indicate father-son relationship.

After the arrival of George Grimes in 1615 or there about, other Grimes came in somewhat rapid succession: John Grimes in 1635; another John Grimes in 1636; Arthur Grimes in 1638; Edward Grimes in 1645; Henry Grimes in 1650; Elizabeth Grimes in 1654; still another John Grimes in 1655; another Edward Grimes in 1658.

The Grymes who came early to Virginia are: Charles Grymes in 1632/3; William Grymes in 1638; Ann Grymes in 1642; John Grymes in 1652; Thomas Grymes in 1653; and Elizabeth Grymes in 1653.

Whether or not the Grimes and the Grymes who came early to Virginia are related or descended from Thomas Grimes of London, or from Sir Thomas Grimes (Grymes) I of Peckham, or from Sir George Grimes, knighted by Sir George Carey, Lord Deputy, at Dublin Castle in 1603, remains for further research to prove. But if repetition of names may be taken as proof, then the proof is clear that they are, for beginning with Thomas Grimes of London and coming down to the present, 1972, there are about fifteen or sixteen generations of Grimes and Grymes, and of these fifteen or sixteen generations, the name "Thomas" appears in ten or eleven of them. And Sir George Grimes is one of six "Georges" representing six generations of the name "George." Also there is more proof: Sir Thomas Grimes (Grymes) III had a son, William Grimes, who was living in Virginia about the year 1725 or 1730. This name "William" also appears in several generations of the Grimes line of descent.

Planned Editions

The plan is for two distinct editions of Rufus Grimes's The Grimes-Llewellyn Families 1635-1972 and beyond: a Matched (fairly static) Edition and a Revised (fluid) Edition. Each edition will have two or more versions (formats) "published" online. The goal will not change; however, as I, or others involved in this endeavor, become aware of new and existing publishing technologies, formats may change.

Matched Edition (versions with file names beginning with "TreeMat") - The page contents of the Matched Edition "versions" usually match as the contents of the numbered pages of the 1972-printed edition with specified differences. Those differences are listed pages 64-65. The Matched Edition will only change for correction amendments such as those described on pages 65. The Matched Edition is and will be a permanent resource and a monument to Rufus Grimes's labor and dedication to research, compile, and craft a wonderful gift and resource for successors of the Grimes-Llewellyn families.

One "version" of the Matched Edition, file "TreeMat.pdf," is suitable for printing and binding and is offered as a single PDF (portable document format) file. Hypertext is added to online Matched Edition versions TreeMat.htm (in web format driven by an internet browser) and TreeMatHyp.pdf. Files "TreeMatHyp.pdf" and print version "TreeMat.pdf" require a PDF reader.

All properly submitted OMISSION, ADDITION, and TEXT EDIT amendments will be included in all Revised Editions, but none in the Matched Editions. All properly submitted CORRECTION amendments will be included in both editions. Details with regard to "how to submit" amendments (corrections, omissions, additions, and text edits) are given online.

Revised Edition (versions with file names beginning with "TreeRev") - As new individuals and facts are added, the Revised Edition will obviously differ from the 1972-printed edition. The Revised Edition may have a web page for each person or couple with links to supplemental documents and photographs. It is an open-ended structure: other technologies can be added. (Web versions are not suitable for printing without major reformatting.)

An expanded explanation of planned editions is online.

The advantages of digital versions of the family tree are as follow:

1. It is convenient form to revise and deliver (by mail or the internet.)
2. It can be updated at no additional cost except volunteers' time.
3. It can be quickly and cheaply copied to a disk or hard drive.
4. One can quickly search the whole document for a word, phrase, or name.
5. Sources, names, places, events, dates, pictures, or graphics in hypertext can be linked items within the document, on our website, or elsewhere on the internet.

This page is added content; it was a blank, unnumbered page in original printed edition.

Disclaimer: this document is a product of scanning the original, and while it has been repeatedly reviewed, the final product has not been checked word for word. Also, simply touching the keyboard can unintentionally alter text of the complex source file.

Respectfully,

Thomas Llewellyn Grimes

The Grimes Coat of Arms

The Grimes Coat of Arms was granted to Thomas Grimes of London in 1575. The Personal Name of Grimes or Grymes comes from the Scandinavian Word "Grim" or "Grym," meaning Bold or Fierce.

THE JOHN GRIMES LINE OF DESCENT

Roman Numerals Indicate Generations

The John Grimes line of descent from 1635 to 1972 begins with:

I. John Grimes I:

John Grimes I of England came to the Jamestown Colony in 1636. The name of his parents is not known. He was one of a company of 24 immigrants to arrive in James City, Virginia, in that year. A few years later, February 21, 1647, Robert Grimes was in Norfolk County, Virginia. This information is based on and quoted from The House of Plant, a book by Mr. G. S. Dickerman, page 220. However, Mr. Dickerman does not say that Robert Grimes is a son of John Grimes. But since Robert Grimes named his first child, a son, John Grimes, the implication of such a relationship is rather clear. The House of Plant is in the Library of Congress, Washington, DC. John Grimes I married but the name of his wife, her maiden name, is not known. Her Christian name or given name was Abigail. When John Grimes I died is not known, but the administration of his estate was given to his widow, Abigail Grimes. No will was recorded.

II. Robert Grimes (I):

Robert Grimes (I) came to Norfolk County, Virginia on February 21, 1647. Five years after his arrival, he received two patents for land. On May 7, 1652, he was granted three hundred acres of land on the Western Branch of the Elizabeth River; and again on January 5, 1656, he received another grant of two hundred acres at the head of a creek, being a branch of the Elizabeth River, thus giving him a total of five hundred acres of land. The implication is rather clear that, by purchase, he added more acres to the five hundred acres granted to him, for he sold, date not given, three hundred acres to Richard Stonall. Since Robert Grimes refers to the part he had left as his plantation, he must have had more than two hundred acres remaining after sale.

When Robert Grimes I was born is not known, but he died in 1693 or 1694. His will was proved or probated in this year. Of his wife, no record could be found. In his will he does not mention her; therefore the assumption is that she predeceased him. Robert Grimes I and wife, whose name is not known, were the parents of the following children:

- III. 1. John Grimes II, date of birth not known
 2. James Grimes I, date of birth not known; he died July 19, 1750

In Brief Abstracts of Lower Norfolk County, Virginia Wills, 1637-171, by Charles Fleming McIntosh, North Carolina State Library, Raleigh, Wake County, North Carolina, is a brief abstract of the will of Robert Grimes I. The will is as follows:

"Robert Grimes (I) of the County of Lower Norfolk, Book 5' f 230, dated July 13, 1692, and proved or probated 15 March 1693/4 by John Whimfell and Henry Pope ... to my son John Grimes (II) all my land lying on the North Side of a creek, between me and Robert flatten, and all my cattle ... to my son James Grimes (I) all the rest of my land together with my Hausein ... my hole (sole) Executors ..."

Witnesses: John Whimfell
 Henry Pope

III. James Grimes I, son of Robert Grimes I and his wife, name unknown:

James Grimes I was born about 1680 or 1685, and was very prominent in Virginia affairs. He is often mentioned in the Virginia records as an appraiser of estates. His wife was named Mary, but her family or maiden name could not be found. The will of James Grimes I may be found in Brief Abstracts of Norfolk County Wills, 1710-1763. The abstracts were compiled by Charles Fleming McIntosh, B. L. and were published by "The Colonial Dames of America" in 1922. The book is in the Virginia Historical Society, Richmond, Virginia. On page 246 is the following: James Grimes I of the Western Branch of the Elizabeth River, Norfolk County Virginia, Book I, page 183, dated May 15, 1750; proved or probated 19 July 1750. The will reads:

Item

1. Unto my son Thomas Grimes (I), all my land and plantation
2. Unto my son James Grimes, 30 pounds cash.
3. Unto my son Jesse Grimes, a Negro boy named Tony
4. Unto my daughter Sarah Grimes Deans, a Negro boy called George
5. Unto my daughter Mary Grimes, a Negro boy called Paule
6. Unto my son John Grimes (II), a Negro boy called Kelly
7. Unto my son Samuel Grimes, one Negro boy called Harry

My loving wife Mary and my son Thomas Exrs.

Witnesses: Richard Harris
Elizabeth Wright

his hand and Seale

One will note that according to his will, James Grimes did not leave any part of his estate to his widow. It will be observed also that he left his entire plantation to his son, Thomas Grimes. Just why he did this is not known for certain. However, there is one possible explanation: he was using an old English law known as the law of primogeniture. By this law, the oldest son gets the entire estate. In this way, the estate is never divided into small farms. James Grimes I and his wife, Mary Grimes, were the parents of the following children:

- IV.
1. Thomas Grimes I, who married Chloe Llewellyn
 2. James Grimes II
 3. Jesse Grimes I
 4. Sarah Grimes, who married a Mr. Deans
 5. Mary Grimes, who married General Kidder Meade
 6. John Grimes II
 7. Samuel Grimes

IV. Thomas Grimes I, son of James Grimes I and of his wife, Mary Grimes:

Thomas Grimes I was born in 1738 and died May 8, 1797. He came from Virginia to Edgecombe County, NC, about the year 1761 and married Chloe Llewellyn of Tyrrell County, NC and later of Martin County, NC about the same year (1761). Chloe Llewellyn was born in 1740 and died December 8, 1794. Chloe Llewellyn was the daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn of Norfolk County, Virginia, her birthplace. Indications are that Thomas Grimes I sold the property his father willed to him, for on arriving in Edgecombe County he bought large tracts of land. Even in Martin County, NC, which was formed in 1774, he bought 200 acres of land in Flatte Swamp from Hugh Ross in 1797 for $900.00. He was almost constantly buying and selling land; therefore just what his estate was is difficult to estimate. However, there are indications that it comprised nearly 5,000 acres of land. Thomas Grimes I and Chloe Llewellyn Grimes were the parents of thirteen children but only eleven lived to reach adulthood. The children are:

- V.
1. Frances Grimes, born 1765
 2. Llewellyn Grimes, born 1767
 3. William Grimes, born January 3, 1769; died November 3, 1850

4. John C. Grimes, born 1772
5. Thomas Grimes II, born 1774; died in 1837
6. Chloe Grimes, born 1776
7. James Grimes IE, born 1778
8. Sarah Grimes, born 1780
9. Elizabeth Grimes, born 1782
10. Mary Grimes, born January 26, 1784; died December 12, 1845
11. George Grimes, born 1788

Thomas Grimes I died May 8, 1797. His wife, Chloe Llewellyn, died December 8, 1794. He wrote his will September 12, 1795 and it was proved or probated May 8, 1797. His will is given below:

"In the Name of God, Amen!

This twelfth day of September in the year of our Lord, One Thousand, Seven Hundred & Ninety-five.

Thomas Grimes I served with the North Carolina State Militia, Captain John Cox, commanding during the American Revolutionary War (1774-1783). He was paid twenty pounds and five shillings. Source: N.C. Revolutionary War Army Accounts, Book W, No. 2, 1774-1783

IV. James Grimes II, son of James Grimes I and his wife, Mary Grimes:

James Grimes II was born in Norfolk County, Virginia in 1740. No additional information relating to him and to whom he married could be found.

IV. Jesse Grimes I, son of James Grimes I and his wife, Mary Grimes:

Jesse Grimes I was born in Norfolk County, Virginia in 1743. When he married and to whom is not known.

IV. Sarah Grimes, daughter of James Grimes I and wife, Mary Grimes:

Sarah Grimes was born in Norfolk County, Virginia in 1745 and married William Deans of the same county and state probably.

IV. Mary Grimes, daughter of James Grimes I, and his wife, Mary Grimes:

Mary Grimes was born in Norfolk County, Virginia in 1747 and married Colonel Kidder Meade who served during the Revolutionary War as Aide-de-Camp to General George Washington. He became General Kidder Meade. Their date of marriage is not known.

IV. John Grimes II, son of James Grimes I and his wife, Mary Grimes:

John Grimes II was born in Norfolk County, Virginia in 1749. He is said to have served in the Revolutionary War but owe seems to be no documentary evidence.

IV. Samuel Grimes, son of James Grimes I and his wife, Mary Grimes:

Samuel Grimes was born in 1750, the year his father died, in Norfolk County, Virginia. The year of his death is not known and there was no information available on his marriage and family. Whether or not Samuel Grimes lived all of his life in Virginia is not known. There was a Samuel Grimes in Bertie County, North Carolina in 1783.

In Hathaway's North Carolina History and Genealogical Register, page 336, Vol. 2, No. 2, there is this record: "Samuel Grimes' will, Bertie County, North Carolina, July 12, 1783; August Term Court, 1783." His will is very short. It simply says: "Wife Ferreebee and all my children. Wife and William Hugh, Executors. Test: William Hugh and Jesse Bryan."

Signed: Samuel Grimes
his hand and Seale

Samuel Grimes, son of James Grimes I and wife, Mary Grimes, of Norfolk County, Virginia would have been thirty three year old in 1783 and therefore could very well have left his native state of Virginia and come to Bertie County, North Carolina. However, this is not a documented fact at this writing.

V. Frances Grimes, daughter of Thomas Grimes (I) and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes: Frances Grimes of Edgecombe County, North Carolina was born in 1766 and married (date unknown) Francis Hatton, probably of Edgecombe County, North Carolina; his date of birth and death is not known. Exactly bow many children they had is not known but one Samuel Henry Hatton whose date of birth is not known but died October 21, 1863, married Susan Andrews, county and state uncertain but probably Edgecombe County, North Carolina. The number of their descendants is not known. The records checked named two and said "others" in another place. The two named are Llewellyn Hatton CSA killed in Kinston, North Carolina, perhaps daring the Civil War. The other, Charlotte Isabella Hatton, born January 15, 1836 and died March 26, 1901. She married James Henry Ellison, born January 8, 1833 and died May 11, 1890. Documentation: Ellison-Robertson Family Bible.

V. Llewellyn Grimes, son of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes: Llewellyn Grimes of Edgecombe County, North Carolina was born in 1767 and he married Mary Arm Best, probably of the same county. He owned much land in Edgecombe and Martin Counties, North Carolina. Information relating to descendants could not be found.

V. William Grimes I, son of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes: William Grimes I of Edgecombe County, North Carolina was born January 3, 1769 and married Talithia Mayo of Martin County on March 19, 1795. She was born March 28, 1770. Talithia Mayo Grimes was the daughter of Colonel Nathan Mayo of Martin County, North Carolina. He was a Lieutenant-colonel in the Martin County Militia and served with distinction in the American Revolution. William Grimes I and his wife, Talithia Mayo Grimes, were the parents of the following children:

- VI.
1. Julia Grimes Cherry married Theophilus Cherry on February 4, 1821
 2. Mary Grimes Moore married Roderick Moore on March 5, 1820
 3. Talithia Grimes Lanier, married William Lamer January 24, 1839 and died September 29, 1855
 4. Lydia Grimes Jones, married Asa Jones on November 26, 1812 and died February 27, 1840
 5. Thomas Grimes III, born March 28, 1805; married on August 4, 1835

Thomas Grimes III of Edgecombe County, North Carolina, married Nancy Best also of Edgecombe County. She was born April 22, 1808. Their descendants are:

- VII.
1. G. P. Grimes
 2. Thomas C. Grimes
 3. James H. Grimes
 4. Mary Grimes

Thomas Grimes III, the son of William Grimes I and his wife, Talithia Mayo Grimes, built his home on his plantation in the Oakley section of Edgecombe County and Pitt County, North Carolina between Tarboro and Bethel of said counties and state. The old house, still standing, was built around 1820. The family graveyard is a few yards to the left of the house and it is sheltered by a clump of very old oak trees. There is no fence but the graves are carefully preserved. The inscription on each tombstone is quite readable. The land on which Thomas Grimes III built his house was willed to him by his father, William Grimes I, who inherited it from his father, Thomas Grimes I of Edgecombe County, North Carolina.

Thomas Grimes III died March 7, 1884. His wife, Nancy Best Grimes, died July 1, 1866. They were buried in the family plantation graveyard.

The will of Thomas Grimes III was probated in 1885 (month and date unknown). Neither is the day, date, month or year known as to when he made his will. In addition to his four children, he included John W. Nelson, a son-in-law. Mary Grimes, his only daughter, married a Mr. Nelson. One son, James H. Grimes, studied medicine and became Dr. James H. Grimes, physician and surgeon. He practiced his profession in Pitt County, North Carolina while living in Bethel of said county and state and this is where three of his daughters were living in 1925 and 1926 and for some time thereafter. It is not known by this writer whom Dr. Grimes married, when married, names of his children, when they married and to whom or when Dr. Grimes died.

Documentation: The family Bible of William Grimes I

There are indications that Dr. Grimes did not practice all of his professional life in Pitt County, North Carolina. A letter written by him indicates this. This letter, in abstract form, dated March 11, 1898, is quoted from a book by Mr. G. S. Dickerman, Library of Congress, Washington, DC. Mr. Dickerman does not say to whom the letter was written.

The letter reads as follows:

"William Grimes, who received a deed from his father, Thomas Grimes (I), was my grandfather. I was born on these lands.

I have heard my father say that our family came from Virginia; also the Pitt County Grimeses, and his father married Chloe Llewellyn. I have also heard him speak of Aunt Chloe Taylor, Uncle Luke Ross and Uncle Lemuel Perkins. I am familiar with the farm of Luke Ross now owned by the Roberson family. I notice that Gov. Northern is of Edgecombe County stock. The family of Gov. Taylor of Tennessee are my nearest neighbors.

Signed: James H. Grimes

The last two sentences indicate that at one time Dr. Grimes lived in Tennessee.

The will of William Grimes I was written May 1, 1850 and was proved or probated November term of court, 1850. From the "Grimes Family" in a book written by Mrs. Marilu Burch Smallwood, the following is quoted: "Vol. F, Records of Wills, Edgecombe County, North Carolina, page 451: Will of William Grimes, 1st day of May, 1850. Will proved or probated November Term of Court, 1850."

In his will, William Grimes I left a third of his land to his wife, Talithia Mayo Grimes, a third of his furniture, and a third of his farm tools; also six negroes. It is assumed that the remaining two thirds were divided among his five children.

William Grimes I died November 3, 1850

Talithia Mayo Grimes, his wife, died September 29, 1855

V. John C. Grimes, son of Thomas Grimes I and of his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes;

John C. Grimes was born in 1772 in Edgecombe County, North Carolina and married Martha Howell. The date of their marriage is not known. Martha Howell was the daughter of Jethro Howell of Edgecombe County and he was, through the Howell fine, descended from Welch kings as is the Llewellyn line of descent. The Howell family gave the land, sometime in the 1760's, for the location of the present town of Tarboro, Edgecombe County, North Carolina. Jethro Howell died on January 15, 1804.

V. Thomas Grimes II, son of Thomas Grimes I and of his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes:

Thomas Grimes II of Edgecombe County, North Carolina was born in 1774 and died in 1836 or 1837. His wife was named Harriet Curry. Thomas Grimes II received from his father, Thomas Grimes I, also of Edgecombe County, 430 acres of land as his part of his father's estate, which consisted of approximately 5,000 acres of land and buildings including dwelling house. Thomas Grimes II died without having made a will and since his plantation was located in Martin County, North Carolina his estate was ordered settled by the Martin County Board of County Commissioners in 1837.

V. Chloe Grimes, daughter of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes:

Chloe Grimes was born in 1776 in Edgecombe County, North Carolina and married a Mr. Taylor, either of Martin or Edgecombe County, North Carolina. Dr. James H. Grimes, great grandson of Thomas Grimes I of Edgecombe County, speaks of "Aunt Chloe Taylor" in a letter quoted earlier in this writing.

V. James Grimes II, son of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes:

James Grimes II was born in 1778 in Edgecombe County, North Carolina. Information relative to when and whom he married and to a family, if any, could not be found.

V. Sarah Grimes, daughter of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes:

Sarah Grimes was born in Edgecombe County, North Carolina in 1780 and married Samuel Whitley (the early spelling of this name was "Wheatley") of near Williamston, Martin County, North Carolina. According to tradition, the Whitley (Wheatley) plantation was a land grant from King George III of England. The land grant is still in the possession of the Whitley heirs, and is said to bear the signature of King George III.

Sarah Grimes and Samuel Crisp Whitley were married about 1815; she was his second wife. They were the parents of ten following children:

- VI. 1. Susan Winfield Whitley
 2. Samuel Crisp Whitley II
 3. George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley I

The third son, George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley I, was born April 1, 1842 and died November 12, 1919. He married Portia Bonner Smallwood on October 1, 1873. She was from "The Sycamores", part of the "Bonner Hill Plantation" adjacent to the northern edge of Washington, Beaufort County, North Carolina. Portia Bonner Smallwood was born September 12, 1853 and died near Williamston, Martin County, North Carolina on February 20, 1925. George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley died in the same house in which he was born George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley I and his wife, Portia Bonner Smallwood Whitley, were the parents of ten children:

- VII. 1. Marina Reddick Whitley
 2. Emily Whitley
 3. John Whitley
 4. Laura Whitley
 5. Samuel Crisp Whitley II
 6. George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley II
 7. Mary Whitley
 8. Sue Whitley
 9. Jesse Whitley
 10. Charles Whitley

George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley I served in the Civil War with the rank of sergeant in Company A, 17th North Carolina Regiment under Captain John C. Lamb, commanding officer.

George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley II was born May 12, 1881 and married on May 13, 1912 a Mary Belle Jenkins who was born June 26, 1881 in Granville County,

North Carolina. At the time of this writing (1972), they were living in Raleigh, Wake County, North Carolina. They are the parents of five children:

- VIII. 1. John Stuart Whitley
 2. Mary Isabella Whitley
 3. Portia Bonner Whitley
 4. George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley III
 5. Walter Jenkins Whitley

Walter Jenkins Whitley was born August 28, 1925 and married Susanne Williams Park. Their descendants are:

- IX. 1. George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley IV
 2. Portia Bonner Smallwood Whitley

At this writing, it was not known whom George Llewellyn Grimes Whitley married but his brother, John Stuart Whitley married Sarah Frances Peele. John Stuart Whitley was born in Durham, Durham County, NC on February 16, 1913 and he married Sarah Frances Peele on September 12, 1937. Sarah Frances Peele of Martin County, NC was born August 15, 1914. In 1972, they were living in Raleigh, Wake County, NC. Sarah Frances Peele is the great granddaughter of John Grimes of Martin County and his wife, Etna Otis Powell Grimes. John Grimes is the son of Thomas Grimes II of Martin County, NC and his wife, Harriet Curry Grimes. Thomas Grimes II is the son of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes of Edgecombe County, NC. John Stuart Whitley and his wife, Sarah Frances Peele Whitley, are cousins, he being descended from Sarah Grimes, a daughter of Thomas Grimes I and she being descended from John Grimes, a grandson of Thomas Grimes I.

V. Elizabeth Grimes, daughter of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes: Elizabeth Grimes was born in 1782 in Edgecombe County, NC and she married Lemuel Perkins of near Williamston, Martin County, NC. He owned a large plantation near said town, county and state. Dr. James H. Grimes, a great grandson of Thomas Grimes I, speaks of "Uncle Lemuel Perkins" in a letter dated March 11, 1898. This letter has been previously shown and discussed under "V. WILLIAM GRIMES I".

V. Mary Grimes, daughter of Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes: Mary Grimes of Edgecombe County, NC was born January 26, 1784 and on January 24, 1799, married Luke Ross of near Williamston, Martin County, NC, who was born December 19, 1775. After getting married, Luke Ross and his wife, Mary Grimes Ross, left the large Roes plantation, near Williamston, Martin County, NC, and moved to Macon, Georgia, or near there, where he bought a large tract of land and became one of the state's most prominent citizens. Below is a letter hi abstract form and is quoted from The House of Plant, a book by G. S. Dickerman, Library of Congress, Washington, DC. There is a picture of Mary Grimes Ross in this book. This letter is written to her sister, Elizabeth Grimes Perkins, the wife of Lemuel Perkins. She (Mary Grimes Ross) indicates a slight homesickness for her brothers, sisters, and friends back home. "Back home" is Edgecombe County, NC where she was born and grew to womanhood. The letter, dated August 9, 1825, reads:

"I often think of you with heavy heart, so fond would I be to see you again. If you were here now it would relieve me of many weary hours; though I ever have been pleased that we came to this place, as I am well convinced it was for the better. All I lack is my friends. As to the comforts of life, I have them in full. We have a good farm and good water and a beautiful place two miles from Macon which is nearly as large as Washington (NC) and as good for trade. My husband raises an abundance of produce to sell. I think I sell notions to the amount of one hundred dollars each year. All sell well, as so many go to cotton crops altogether and do not raise anything to sell. I think Mr. Perkins, if he were here, would do much better. Perhaps he might not like. To think so many of my brothers and sisters might come to see me but do not even write me a line. Hatton Taylor (husband of Chloe Grimes, sister of Mary Grimes Rosa), Llewellyn (brother of Mary Grimes Ross), nor Thomas (another brother) has ever written me the first line. Our children are scattered about; Sally is in North Carolina, James in South Carolina, Henry and Marina in Macon. I would not be back in Williamston (Martin County, North Carolina) for ten of the best negroes in Martin County. As to Franky (Frances Grimes Hatton, a sister) and Chloe (Chloe Grimes Taylor, another sister) they seem dead to me as they are older and are so far away and never send me a word. O, sister how often I think of our childhood; it brings tears to my eyes to think we art never to see each other again. We have fine crops. The prospects of all kinds are flattering. May God continue His favors. J. Grimes and his family and Congleton and his family are well and much pleased at their move. This from your distant sister and friend."

Signed: Polly Ross
(Mary Grimes Ross)

Mary Grimes Ross and Luke Rose were the parents of thirteen children. The names of five of the thirteen given below are taken from The House of Plant by G. S. Dickerman.

- VI. 1. Henry Grimes Ross, born June 24, 1800
 2. Sarah Ross, born June 13, 1802
 3. James Llewellyn Ross, born February 9, 1804
 4. Marina Ross, born March 6, 1806
 5. John Bennett Ross, born February 9, 1808

Henry Grimes Ross died January 8, 1857 in East Macon, Georgia. He married twice—first to Sarah Bullock on January 1, 1823 and second to Amelia T. Ross on January 20, 1850. Sarah Bullock was sister to Martha Bullock who married Theodore Roosevelt, Sr. They were the parents of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., President of the United States from 1901 to 1909.

Sarah Ross died September, 1880 at Hampstead, Texas. She married twice—first to Edward Griffin in October, 1816 and second to Charles Caldwell of Houston, Georgia.

James Llewellyn Ross died in Texas. He also married twice—first to Ameretta Fondrin on October 25, 1824 and second to a Miss Knighten.

Marina Ross married a George B. Wardlaw on September 16, 1824. John Bennett Ross died August 29, 1877 at East Macon, Georgia. He married three times—first to Ann Lane Holt on May 8, 1834; second to Martha Leonora Redding on March 2, 1845; and third to Mary Ann (Lamar) Longstreet on October 31, 1866. The name "Bennett" in John's name goes back to Martin County, North Carolina where his grandmother, Elizabeth Bennett, daughter of Richard Bennett, was born and reared. Richard Bennett was the son of Thomas Bennett, a very prominent person in the affaire of the Jamestown colony. However, Richard was even more prominent than his father. He was governor of the colony from 1652 to 1655 and he was commander of the militia in 1666 with the rank of Major General.

Mary Grimes Ross, wife of Luke Ross, died in Macon, Georgia on December 13, 1845.

Luke Ross died on December 10, 1844.

V. George Grimes, son of Thomas Grimes I and wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes:

George Grimes of Edgecombe County, North Carolina was born in 1786 and if he ever married, the record of such marriage has been lost or destroyed.

V. Thomas Grimes II, son of Thomas Grimes I and wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes:

Thomas Grimes II was born in 1774 in Edgecombe County, North Carolina and about the year 1800 married Harriet Curry of Edgecombe County. Their descendants are:

- VI. 1. Chloe Grimes, born in 1803; died in 1844
 2. Thomas Grimes III, born in 1805
 3. George Grimes II born in 1807
 4. James Grimes IV born in 1809
 5. John Grimes IV, born in 1811
 6. William Grimes II, born March 28, 1813; died November 30, 1902
 7. Drucilla Grimes, born 1815
 8. Luanda Grimes, born 1817
 9. Nancy Grimes, born 1819
 10. Harriet Grimes, born 1823

Thomas Grimes II inherited from his father, Thomas Grimes 1,430 acres of land as his part of his father's estate which consisted of about 5,000 acres of land and houses in addition to the dwelling house.

Thomas Grimes II died in 1836 or 1837 in Martin County, NC where his plantation was located. He left no will and therefore his estate had to be settled by the Martin County Board of County Commissioners. Therefore, according to:

Records Book L, Martin County, North Carolina, (Register of Deeds Office) pages 81 and 82: "State of North Carolina, Martin County, April 8, 1837, in obedience to order of Court of Pleas and Quarter session, January Term, 1837, it was ordered that William Powell, Marconi Manning, Tenneth Page, S. B. Powell and Randall Jenkins be appointed Commissioners to divide and allot the lands of Thomas Grimes (II), deceased., between (among) the heirs of the deceased. The Commissioners have met and have done so and report as follows:

- Lot No. 1. Thomas Grimes III
 Lot No. 2. Chloe Grimes
 Lot No. 3. George Grimes
 Lot No. 4. James Grimes
 Lot No. 5. Harriet Grimes
 Lot No. 6. William Grimes II
 Lot No. 7. John Grimes IV
 Lot No. 8. Drucilla Grimes
 Lot No. 9. Lucinda Grimes
 Lot No. 10. Nancy Grimes"

Why the widow of Thomas Grimes II was not included in the settlement of the estate is something of a mystery. She was definitely living for her daughter, Chloe Grimes, evidently sick and feeling that she did not have long to live, made her will on January 15, 1844. She left all of her property of whatever kind and sort to "my beloved mother". She did not give her mother's name. Chloe Grimes also wrote, "I appoint my brother, William Grimes, to be my sole executor." The will was proved and probated in April, 1844 term of Martin County, North Carolina Court.

Just when the mother of Chloe Grimes died is not precisely known but since her name does not appear in the 1850 Martin County census, the logical assumption is that she died sometime between 1844 and 1850. On December 8, 1833, Thomas Grimes II sold for $50.00 to his daughter, Drucilla Grimes, her one tenth part of the 430 acres of land that his father, Thomas Grimes I had willed to him.

VI. John Grimes IV, son of Thomas Grimes II and of his wife, Harriet Curry Grimes:

John Grimes IV of Martin County, NC was born in 1811 and married Etna Otis Powell of Martin or Edgecombe County. She was born about 1815. The date of their marriage could not be found. They were the parents of the following children:

- VII. 1. Harriet Eliza Grimes; married James Alien Powell
 2. Elizabeth Grimes; married a Mr. Cook

3. Pattie Martha Grimes; married a Mr. Edmondson
4. Callie Grimes; married a Mr. Mann
5. Mary Emma Grimes; married twice—first to a Mr. Norwood and second to a James Alien Powell
6. Caroline Grimes; married a Mr. Mann (Callie Grimes and Caroline Grimes may be the same person)
 7. Alice Grimes; married a Mr. Coleman
 8. John Grimes, a daughter; married a Mr. Ross

John Grimes IV and Etha Otis Powell Grimes were the daughters. When number eight was born, a girl, so great was their disappointment that they named her "John." At last, they had a male name in their family of eight daughters.

Their daughter, Harriet Eliza Grimes, whose date of birth could not be found but she died August 3, 1890, married James Alien Powell on November 19, 1874. He was born January 11, 1849 and died on September 28, 1916 in Martin County, North Carolina. Mr. Powell was born in either Martin or Edgecombe County.

Harriet Eliza Grimes and her husband, James Alien Powell, were the parents of several children but, for this record, only one will be named. This one, a daughter, Maud Lillie Powell, was born October 15, 1888 and married George Alonza Peele of Martin County. He was born December 8, 1879 and he died in Martin County on January 22, 1960. Maud Lillie Powell Peele and her husband, George Alonza Peele, lived near Williamston, Martin County, North Carolina and had the following children:

- VII. 1. Sarah Frances Peele, born August 18, 1914
 2. George Alonza Peele II born April 21, 1916
 3. William Daniel Peele II, born January 14, 1919
 4. Alien Rudolph Peek), born January 5, 1921
 5. Billy (William) Eugene Peele, born December 3, 1924
 6. Reginald Davis Peele, born May 21, 1927

Sarah Frances Peele of Martin County, NC was born August 15, 1914 and married John Stuart Whitley of Raleigh, Wake County, NC on December 12, 1937. He was born February 16, 1913 in Durham County, in the city of Durham, NC. They are the parents of several children. John Stuart Whitley and his wife, Sarah Frances Peele, are distantly related. Both are descended from Thomas Grimes I and his wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes, of Edgecombe County, NC. John Stuart Whitley is descended through a daughter, Sarah Grimes Whitley; his great grandmother, Sarah Frances Peele is descended through a grandson, John Grimes, her great grandfather.

- VI. William Grimes II, son of Thomas Grimes II and his wife, Harriet Curry Grimes: William Grimes II of Martin County, NC was born March 28, 1813 and he married Sally (Sarah) Rogers of Martin County on January 20, 1845. She was born March 15, 1820. They were the parents of the following children:

- VII. 1. Curry Fannie Grimes, born March 15, 1846
 2. Lucinda Grimes, born January 2, 1848
 3. William Thomas Grimes, born August 24, 1854
 4. James Turner Grimes, born February 23, 1856
 5. Stephen Llewellyn Grimes, born October 12, 1858
 6. Sadie (Sarah) Grimes, born October 29, 1863
 7. George Grimes, born in 1867; died at six years old in 1873

William Grimes (II) of Martin County died on November 30, 1902. He did not leave a will and his estate was settled by his six descendants listed above in 1903 or 1904. Sally (Sarah) Rogers Grimes died on June 24, 1900.

The Civil War Record of William Grimes II
 Martin County, North Carolina

William Grimes served with honor as a soldier in the Civil War. Below is a quoted statement of his war record in the National Archives and Records in Washington, DC.

"William Grimes of Martin County, North Carolina, Robersonville, enlisted for service in the Civil War on November 4, 1861. He was a private in the 61st Regiment, Company H, North Carolina Troops and his name appears on the Roll of Honor of said Company and Regiment. He was a volunteer and not a conscript. He served with distinction in Captain William B. Earner's Company (Hill Guards), 59th Regiment, North Carolina Infantry (State Troops). He was mustered into service in Washington, N. C. on the above date by Colonel R. McMillan. His period of enlistment was for one year. He was discharged on December 7, 1862, giving as his reason for discharge: being over 45 years of age."

William Grimes applied for a soldiers' pension in 1902; a quote from his application is given:

SOLDIERS APPLICATION FOR PENSION
William Grimes (II)

"State of North Carolina, County of Martin:

On the 7th day of July, A. D., 1902, personally appeared before me, J. A. Stubbs, C. S. C., in and for the State and county aforesaid, William Grimes, age 89 years, and a resident of Robersonville post office in said county and state, and who, being duly sworn, makes the following declaration in order to obtain a pension under the provision of an act entitled "An Act to amend chapter 198 of the laws of 1889 for the relief of certain Confederate Soldiers and Widows," ratified March 2, 1901. That he is the identical William Grimes who enlisted in Company H, 61st Regiment of North Carolina State Troops on or about the 4th day of November, 1861, to serve at or near Richmond, in the State of Virginia, on or about... day of November, 1864 (1862); he received a wound by a piece of shell on right hip. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 7th day of July, 1902.

J. A. Stubbs: Signature of C. S. C.

Signed: William Grimes

In order to receive the pension, William Grimes was examined by Dr. W. H. Harrell, a practicing physician and surgeon of Williamston, Martin County, NC. There is more but it is not important.

VIII. Sadie (Sarah) Mae Avers Harrison and husband, Roosevelt Harrison also have two great grandchildren. Their granddaughter, Loraine Gertrude Harrison, married John Anthony Gabriele on August 11, 1964 and they have two children: (Lorraine Gertrude Harrison is generation X.)

- XI. 1. John Anthony Gabriele II, born January 28, 1965
2. Denise Ann Gabriele, born April 12, 1987

Interesting Collateral Lines

The Grimes-Bennett-Ross-Roosevelt-Colquitt Line

This ends the John Grimes I descendants on the basis of available information at the time of gathering and arranging it in the years 1971 and 1972. Any descendant of Thomas Grimes I of Edgecombe County, North Carolina may join the National and State Societies of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution by application, giving a direct and documented line of descent. Thomas Bennett at age 38 was living in the Jamestown Colony in 1618. Richard Bennett, son of Thomas Bennett, was a man of distinction in the Colony among the settlers. He took part in colonial affairs and was governor of the colony from 1662 to 1665. He was commander of the militia in 1666 with the rank of Major General.

Richard Bennett married but the name of his wife, given or family name could not be found. He and his wife had a family and one of his children was named Elizabeth. Elizabeth Bennett married John Ross, and they had a son named "Luke." Luke Ross married Mary Grimes, daughter of Thomas Grimes I and wife, Chloe Llewellyn Grimes. Thomas Grimes was a large land holder in Edgecombe County, North Carolina. There is a book in the library of Congress, Washington, DC. titled The House of Plant by Mr. G. S. Dickerman. There is a picture of Mary Grimes in this book.

The Ross and the Bennett estates were near each other and were in Martin County, North Carolina near Williamston, NC.

After their marriage, Luke Ross and his wife, Mary Grimes Ross, moved to Macon, Georgia where they bought a large plantation. Also in the book referred to above is a letter, dated August 9, 1825, written by Mary Grimes Ross to her sister, Elizabeth Grimes Perkins of Williamston, Martin County, North Carolina. She describes her life in Georgia in this letter — See generation V. for MARY GRIMES.

The family name Ross is among the early arrivals in the Jamestown Colony. The six-times great grandfather of Luke Ross settled in Roanoke, Virginia. But the date of his arrival, unfortunately, is not known. However, if one takes the birth of Luke Ross (December 19, 1775) and goes back six generations, he can easily see that the Ross line of descent goes back to a date not too long after the first settlers arrived in 1607.

Luke Ross and his wife, Mary Grimes Ross, were the parents of 13 children. One of the children, Henry Grimes Ross, married Sarah Bullock. The sister of Sarah Bullock Ross, Martha Bullock, married Theodore Roosevelt I whose father, Cornelius Van Schaack Roosevelt of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania married Margaret Barnhill, daughter of Robert Barnhill whose father, John Barnhill, lived in Pitt County, North Carolina. Thus Margaret Barnhill was the grandmother of Theodore Roosevelt II, president of the United States for years 1901 to 1909. Whether or not the Barnhills of Pitt County, North Carolina are related to the Barnhill's of Martin County, North Carolina is not definitely known.

The following is quoted from a book by Mrs. Marilu Burch Smallwood, a professional genealogist: The Wesleyan Alumnae for May 1940; Vol. XVI, No. 2 (Wesleyan College; Macon, Georgia) Page 15: Harriet Matilda Ross (was) born in 1823 (one of 13 children of Luke Ross and wife, Mary Grimes Ross), married January 11, 1843 (to) Judge Walter T. Colquitt, a member of Congress, a U. S. Senator. They had six children one of whom was Alfred Holt Colquitt who became Governor of Georgia and U. S. Senator."

The Llewellyn Family Royal Line of Descent

Llewellyn the Great, Prince of Wales, was born in 1173 and died in 1240. He first married Tangwyal of Rhos. In 1201, he married a second time to Joan, the daughter of King John of England who died in 1237. Llewellyn the Great was the son of Iorwerth, the Prince of Wales who married Maret, the daughter of Modoc. Iorwerth was the son of Owen Gwinedh, Prince of North Wales, and married Gladys who was a descendant of Lady Godiva.

There are fifty more lines of descent going all the way back to Constantine, the greatest of all the Roman Emperors. Constantine was born in the year 265 and died six days before Easter in 337 A. D. He was born and educated in Great Britain.

And from royalty, the Llewellyns descend to nobility. The following names are two examples:

1. Sir David Llewellyn, the first baronet of Wales
2. Sir Rhuys Llewellyn, the second baronet of Wales; son of Sir David Richard Llewellyn

The Llewellyn Family

The Llewellyn family was among the early immigrants of the Virginia colony. Just how early they came remains to be determined by future research. However, an educated guess would be the early 1640's for on October 27, 1642, Daniel Llewellyn I was granted 856 acres of land and again on July 4, 1645, he was granted 956 acres; both grants were in Virginia. Again in 1653, Daniel Llewellyn I patented land in Charles City (County), Virginia and owned land adjoining Shirley Hundred in 1660. With no date given, he was granted more land on the James River (Virginia) which was confirmed by another patent or grant to Daniel Llewellyn "son and Heir" of the aforesaid Daniel Llewellyn (I). Source: William & Mary Quarterly, page 237-238.

Daniel Llewellyn I married (date unknown) Anne Hallam (her second marriage) who was the daughter of a well-to-do merchant in England. He became prominent in Virginia affairs serving as a justice of the peace and as a captain of the Virginia State Militia in 1660. Another Daniel Llewellyn who was also a justice of the peace at Charles City in 1689 and 1702 was probably a son of Daniel Llewellyn I. Daniel Llewellyn I had a son who was born in 1647. His will proves this. This son says he married the daughter of Captain John Smith. The William & Mary Quarterly; Vol. XIII says: Daniel Llewellyn I of Chelmsford, Essex, England, planter, dated his will February 6, 1663 and it was proved March 11, 1663. He lived on his plantation of 2,000 acres in the upper part of the James River (Virginia). He gave his cloths and his plantation to his son, Daniel Llewellyn II; to his wife, Anne Hallam Llewellyn and to his daughter, Margaret Llewellyn Cruse, he gave some somewhat minor things. He also remembered some very close friends.

There are two John or John William Llewellyns and both settled in Maryland. Which one arrived first is not definitely known. One of them settled in Kent County (Maryland) where he received 3,000 acres of land as a grant in 1684. Two other men were included in this grant but for some reason their names are not known. The other John or John William Llewellyn settled in Saint Mary's County (Maryland) and according to an inventory of his estate, died about 1691. Whether or not they were related is not known.

According to Reed's Beaufort County, North Carolina, pages 45, 46, 171: Dr. Maurice Llewellyn, physician and surgeon, arrived in the town of Bath, Beaufort County, North Carolina in 1705 or 1706. He bought a lot of land qt. half and acre and four poles in the year 1706 or 1706 (September 27) adjoining a Mr. Llewellyn (first name not given) on one side and Nath Wyandate on the other side. If Dr. Maurice Llewellyn is related to either of the John William Llewellyns in Maryland, such is not known to the writer. However, the possibility and the probability exist because Mr. Dorsey Richardson Hester says in his book, (presumed to be Side-lights on Maryland History) (pages 287 to 356) that "several people of North Carolina came from Maryland." In York Wilson's A Carolina-Virginia Genealogy, page 136, one reads: "On March 8, 1705, Bath Town was incorporated. Among the early purchasers of lots in Bath or Bath Town was Dr. Maurice Luellyn (Llewellyn), physician and surgeon. The North Carolina governor at this time was Thomas Cary. Dr. Maurice Llewellyn was one of the leaders among the early settlers. He established a horse-powered grist mill for the convenience of the settlers in addition to caring for their health." This ends the history of Dr. Llewellyn. Whether or not he married, lived and died in Bath Town is not known. No will is on record. If he died in Bath Town, he was probably buried in the floor of Saint Thomas Episcopal Church to prevent disinterment by the Indians. However there was no grave marker to prove this.

John William Llewellyn of Norfolk County, Virginia wrote his will January 28, 1751 and it was proved or probated April 16, 1769. When he was born is not known but probably around 1685 or 1690. The name of his father is not known though some researchers seem to think he was the son of Daniel Llewellyn II. This belief is based on two facts: (1) they lived not too far from each other and (2) Daniel Llewellyn was old enough to have fathered a son in 1685 or 1690 since he served as a justice of the peace in Charles City (Virginia) in 1699 through 1702.

John William Llewellyn I married Frances ... There seems to be no record of her family or maiden name. The date of marriage is not known. John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn were the parents of seven children:

1. John William Llewellyn II
2. Sarah Llewellyn
3. Franki (Frances) Llewellyn
4. Anna Llewellyn
5. Chloe Llewellyn
6. Lidia Llewellyn
7. Abbe Llewellyn

The will of John William Llewellyn I was written January 28, 1751 and proved or probated April 16, 1759. The will in abstract is as follows:

"I, Wm. (John William) Llewelling (Llewellyn) of the Western Branch of Elizabeth River give to my wife, Frances Llewelling (Llewellyn) the plantation on which I now live during her widowhood, then to pass to my son, John (William) Llewelling (Llewellyn) ... cattle (etc) to my wife, and at her death to be divided to my children and my grandson, William Manning ... my children William (John William) Llewelling (Llewellyn), Sarah Llewelling (Llewellyn), Franki (Frances) Llewelling (Llewellyn), Anna Llewelling (Llewellyn), Chloe Llewelling (Llewellyn), Lidia Llewelling (Llewellyn), and Abbe Llewelling (Llewellyn) ... my wife Frances Llewelling (Llewellyn) as joining executors."

John William Llewellyn I died April 16, 1759 and his wife, Frances Llewellyn died January, 1775 (date of month unknown). She outlived her husband by sixteen years.

Frances Llewellyn, widow of John William Llewellyn I, must have been a woman of great determination and of high intelligence. The pioneer spirit as well as great executive ability must have been a part of her. A few years after the death of her husband, she sold her home and well established plantation in Norfolk County, Virginia and moved with her family to Tyrrell County, North Carolina. Why she made this move from a comfortable home and many friends is known only to Frances Llewellyn. The question of why she moved to a frontier land (Tyrrell County, North Carolina) in the early 1760's when compared to Norfolk County, Virginia is difficult to answer. The part of Tyrrell County where Frances Llewellyn had her home and plantation was taken in 1774 to form part of Martin County, North Carolina. Thus she became a resident of Martin County and her will, dated November 29, 1770, proved and probated January 1775, is on record in the Martin County Courthouse, Williamston, North Carolina (Book I, page 18). As of this writing, not much is known of the children of Frances Llewellyn — whom they married, where they lived, and their families. Her son, John William Llewellyn II and her daughter, Chloe Llewellyn, are the better known as will be shown later.

John William Llewellyn II married Mary ... Her maiden name seems to have been lost. In his will, he refers to her as "my wife." He and his wife, Mary, had five children — four daughters and one son. The son was the last child and was named John William Llewellyn III.

John William Llewellyn II became a man of prominence in Tyrrell and Martin Counties. In Tyrrell County in 1772, he was a member of the Commission of Peace. In 1774, that section of Tyrrell County where he lived was cut away to create Martin County thus making him a resident of Martin County. He became Justice of the Peace in Martin County and sometime later he was appointed captain in the North Carolina Militia. However John William Llewellyn II did not devote all of his time to his duties as a justice of the peace or to being a captain in the state militia for as time passed, he became a very prosperous landowner in Martin County. On April 23, 1765, while a resident of Tyrrell County, he bought 100 acres from Thomas Staton and added 99 more acres of the Conetoe branch the following October. The same number of acres again in 1772 and two year later he bought three hundred and ninety-nine acres with a house and out buildings. In this same year (1774), he bought a quarter of a mill in which he already owned one quarter. In addition to buying land, he received the following grants:

September 29, 1784, File No. 265, volume 64, page 37, John (William) Llewellyn, 75 acres on the east side of Conetoe Swamp and adjoining the line of Thomas Grimes and Col. Nathan Mayo.

September 29, 1784, File No. 254, volume 64, page 32, John (William) Llewellyn, 275 acres in Martin County, North Carolina, adjoining the line of Thomas Best and Richard Taylor and others ...

April 19, 1779, File No. 09 (90?), entry page 256, John William Llewellyn joining John (William) Llewellyn's line. This land entered and recorded but never taken up.

December 2nd, 1801, File No. 701, volume 114, page 148, John (William) Llewellyn, 84 acres on east side of little Conetoe Creek in Edgecombe County, North Carolina ... near John William Llewellyn's line and joining William Hyman Junior's line.

John (William) Llewellyn ... October 30, 1799, file No. 408, volume 117, page 32, 20 acres in Halifax County, North Carolina... land lying on Deep Creek ... adjoining Elijah Hobgood's line.

When these acres are added, one gets the impression that he was a man of great energy, enterprise and prosperity. John William Llewellyn's will shows him to be a well-to-do if not a wealthy man.

John William Llewellyn II was Martin County's foremost Tory. He was tried and convicted of high treason, reprimanded by Governor Caswell and put into jail in Edenton, North Carolina to await execution. However, so many of John William Llewellyn's friends came to his aid and put so much pressure on Governor Caswell by written and oral petitions that some researchers say that he was pardoned. And pardoned he definitely was for the John William Llewellyn who became a large land owner in Martin, Halifax and Edgecombe Counties and the John William Llewellyn, the Tory, were the same man.

The Llewellyns had strong and deep roots in Wales; they owned several thousand acres of land in Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina. Also they were sincerely and deeply loyal to the Church of England. In his defense, John William Llewellyn II said that if the colonies became free and independent of England, the Church of England as he knew and loved it would undergo radical changes if not disappear altogether. He did not want to see this happen; thus his loyalty to England.

Chloe Llewellyn, daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn, married Thomas Grimes I of Edgecombe County, North Carolina. Thomas Grimes I became a very large land owner in Martin and Edgecombe Counties, North Carolina. His thirst for land was seemingly never quenched for in 1797 (the year he died), he bought 200 acres from Hugh Ross for which he paid Hugh Ross $900.00 — land located on Flatte Swamp, Martin County. Altogether, Thomas Grimes I acquired approximately 5,000 acres of land.

Lidia or Lydia Llewellyn, daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn, married William Manning of Williamston, Martin County, NC. They had at least one son — William Manning II. Abby or Abbe Llewellyn, daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn, married a Mr. Culpepper of Virginia (probably) since there were Culpepper living in Norfolk County, Virginia, the state and county when Abby Llewellyn was born. Daniel Culpepper was one of the witnesses to her father's will. Mr. Culpepper and Abby Llewellyn Culpepper had two children — a son, Willis Culpepper and a daughter, Fanny Culpepper. Sarah Llewellyn, daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn, was born in Norfolk County, Virginia. She came to Tyrrell County, NC when her mother moved there in the early 1760's. Additional information could not be found.

Franki or Frances Llewellyn, daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn, was born in Norfolk County, Virginia. The records searched do not give any additional information about her.

Anna Llewellyn, daughter of John William Llewellyn I and wife, Frances Llewellyn, was born in Norfolk County, Virginia. The records searched do not give any additional information about her.

Frances Llewellyn, widow of John William Llewellyn I, made her will five years before she died. Her will is recorded at Williamston, Martin County, NC, dated November 29, 1770 and proved or probated January, 1775 (date of month could not be found). Her will in abstract form is as follows:

"I, Frances Llewellyn of Tyrrell County, North Carolina ... will that whatsoever it has been God's blessed will to bless me with, that I have got by my industry since the decease of my beloved husband, (John) William Llewellyn, be equally divided between (among) my five children, John (William) Llewellyn, Anny (Anna) Llewellyn, Chloe Llewellyn, Lyddia (Lidia or Lydia) Llewellyn and Abby (Abbe) Llewellyn: all my negroes be equally divided between (among) my five children and three grandchildren; William Manning, Willis Culpepper and Fanny Culpepper; and that the said Willis and Fanny Culpepper share to their share but the seventh part of the aforesaid negroes — the seventh part to be equally divided between Willis and Fanny Culpepper."

Signed: Frances Llewellyn

 Robert Sherrod, Sen.

The above will was copied from The House of Plant by G. S. Dickerman. Some parts of this will are confusing to say the least. Whether the confusion comes from the abstraction by Mr. Dickerman or from the will as written by Frances Llewellyn is uncertain.

It will be noted that two names are missing in this will which are in the will of John (William) Llewellyn — the daughters, Sarah and Franki (Frances). Other names are added — the grandchildren, Willis and Fanny — natural changes in a family during a period of twenty years. The remainder of the names are the same. Source: The House of Plant by G. S. Dickerman. The manner in which Mrs. Llewellyn speaks of her property as being acquired by her industry since her husband died is suggestive of the great opportunities offered at that time in eastern North Carolina and her enterprise in going with her children into a new country to make her home.

Other references to persons with the Llewellyn name in the land records of Norfolk County, Virginia are as follows:

"May 16, 1721, Richard Llewellyn Se. sell to Abell Llewellyn for five shillings 100 acres on the Southern Branch of the Elizabeth River; one hundred acres, more or less, on Paradise Creek; also at the same time and date, 60 acres in the same locality."

"March 18, 1741, Luke Llewellyn and Martha his wife deed to William Bustion for five shillings 100 acres on the Southern Branch of the Elizabeth River 'a tract on which Luke Llewellyn now lives'; also March 19, 1741, to William Bustion, Jr., for £30 (thirty pounds) 100 acres more or less."

Source: Norfolk County, Virginia records.

The will of Edward Llewellyn of Norfolk County, Virginia was written or dated January 10, 1752 and probated (proved) August 21, 1752 reads —

"Wife Margt (Margaret) Llewellyn, sons Thomas, Lewis, Benjamin and Edward; daughters Elizabeth Llewellyn Bustion, Lydia (Lyddia) Llewellyn Ewell, Mary Llewellyn, Lettisha Llewellyn, Lettas Llewellyn; also son John Llewellyn."

The above will was copied from The House of Plant by G. S. Dickerman, Library of Congress, Washington, DC.

There is nothing to show that there is any kinship between or among these Llewellyns and John William Llewellyn, husband of Frances Llewellyn. A logical assumption that they are related may be made since all lived in the same county (Norfolk County, Virginia) and about the same time—1721, 1752 and 1759.

The Culpepper-Llewellyn Families

(The Culpeppers of England, North Carolina and Virginia; facts taken from "The Culpeppers" by Fairfax Harrison)

Attention was called earlier to the fact that Daniel Culpepper witnessed the will of John William Llewellyn whose daughter, Abby or Abbie Llewellyn, married a Mr. Culpepper. Since John William Llewellyn was living in Lower Norfolk County, Virginia when he wrote his will and dated January 28, 1751, you might logically assume that Daniel Culpepper also lived in that county and state. Also since Abby (Abbie) Llewellyn was born and reared in Lower Norfolk County, Virginia, you may assume that the Mr. Culpepper she married also lived in that county and state.

The Culpeppers are an old, illustrious and noble family of England. In Charles I's peerage patent of 1644, he says: "the house we are about to study was described as the 'Ancient and Noble family of the Culpeppers in our counties of Kent and Sussex many ages past, renowned for persons of eminent ability both in war and peace.'" The Culpeppers first appear in the records in the time of King John who was born 1166 and died 1216.

The Culpeppers came early to Virginia. On July 8, 1635, Thomas Culpepper (Lord Culpepper) was appointed Lieutenant and Governor General of Virginia during life. (27 Chas., page 7)

October 21, 1635, Sir Alexander Culpepper, Esq., was appointed Surveyor General in Virginia. (1 Jac. II, page 9)

September 27, 1635, the King confirms to Thomas Culpepper (Lord Culpepper) an entire tract of land in Virginia, bounded within the springs of the rivers of Tappahannock and Quiriough, to him and to his heirs forever, yielding and paying therefore 61.13 s. & 4d. (4 Jac. 11, page 7)

So prominent were the Culpeppers in Virginia history that a county has been named in their honor.

John Culpepper III, 1633-1680, was in Albemarle in Carolina in 1677. He is mentioned in connection with the "Carolina Rebel" in 1777 and according to one authority, from him are descended the later Culpeppers of Lower Norfolk County, Virginia as well as the Culpeppers in the eastern part of Carolina.

About the enhanced "My Personal Family Lineage"

The "My Personal Family Lineage" on unnumbered pages 62-68 of the original 1972 edition is now available in a separate file online.

Since each descendant should have their own "My Personal Family Lineage," it is offered as a MS Word 2003 document. You can print it and make handwritten entries, or as an option, make keyboard entries. The form is protected from inadvertent layout changes, but it is not password protected: so you can change it. However, only the layout online, unchanged, can be used as an alternative method to submit amendments to the online family tree.

The form is found at <http://www.grimestree.net/TreeMyLineage.doc>

If you do not have Word on your computer, the file is compatible with "OpenOffice writer" which is free online at www.download.openoffice.org

Style, Format, and Content Enhancements: (added content)

Printing parameters for the "hard copy" (print) file "TreeMat.pdf:" 8.5 inch X 11 inch pages with margins: left, right, and top at 1.0 inch, and bottom at 0.75 inch. A (text) body width of 6¼ inches, and varying alignment, using justified where suitable, Verdana at 10 points.

All properly submitted CORRECTION amendments will be included in both the Matched and Revised Editions.

All properly submitted OMISSION, ADDITION, and TEXT EDIT amendments will be included in all Revised Editions, but not the Matched Edition.

To a reasonable degree, the Matched Edition will be true to original 1972 published edition. Other differences style, format, and content are:

(1) (format) Bold print replaced all-capitals for descendants' names. All-capitals descendants' names obscure Roman numeral suffixes, hide misspellings from spell-checker, and is not as easy to read. Simply put, the bold print looks better.

(2) (format) "North Carolina" is spelled out on many occasions; however, "NC" is substituted for "North Carolina" when it occurs frequently on the same page. For consistence, "NC" was substituted for "N.C." elsewhere unless it was in quotes; also substitutions were made for "DC" for D.C. and "NY" for "N.Y."

(3) (format) "... " (three, non-spaced periods or dots) are substituted for all forms of "....." and "..... (date)"

(4) (format) No end-of-line hyphenated words; books and periodicals are in bold italic print; pronoun gender correction; and minor changes for consistency. Several volunteers, including generation IX Thomas Robert Grimes on page 29, typed the original plates.

(5) (format) Paragraph indentation on some pages including pages 3, 4, 10, 12, and 60 vary from the printed version to maintain matching page content.

(6) (format/content) For content continuity, the grandchildren of Sadie (Sarah) Mae Ayers Harrison and her husband, Roosevelt Harrison (on pages 52 and 53) will be listed as descendants beneath their parents.

(7) (content movement) Content may be moved from the bottom of a page to the top of the next, or vice versa, within a named description. The goal of near matched page content is noble, but this version offers better placement of content than the original: eliminating many page breaks within descriptions.

(8) (content change) No change in factual content except the correction amendments in the manner given on the next page. Clearly, known errors should be corrected in every edition.

(9) (content added)

"Planned Editions" is given on page IV;

"References" beginning on page 62.

"Style, format, and Content Changes" were added and listed on page 64

"Demonstration List of Correction Amendments" on page 65

(10) (content available only online) The "My Personal Family Linkage" pages in the original edition for pen and ink entries is offered online in a separate file.

(11) (content added and title change) The table of contents is now broader in scope; now simply "The Table of Contents" rather than "The Table of Contents by Family."

(12) The pages of some versions are numbered at both the top and bottom.

Demonstration list of correction amendments (added content)

Amendments are information changes for individual descendants including corrections, omissions, additions, and text rewrites.

Correction amendments include misnamed, misplacements, misspellings or otherwise misstated which are demonstrated in order below:

"II Robert Grimes" in the Table of Contents was changed to match said name given on content page 1.

Page 5

Hathaway's "North Carolina History and Genealogical Register" was MISNAMED as Hathaway's "North Carolina History and General Register."

XI. Carolyn Amanda Williams, born May 2, 1966 (descendent of Gladys Peele Williams) was MISPLACED as XII. Carolyn Amanda Williams, born May 2, 1966 (descendent of Ralph Edwards Williams)

Page 43

VIII. THOMAS MAYO GRIMES, son of Stephen Llewellyn Grimes and wife, Susan Roebuck Grimes:

Thomas Mayo Grimes of Martin County, NC was born August 1, 1905 and on February 13, 1938, married Carrie Belle Warren of Martin County, NC
Was MISSTATED AS married Carrie Belle Warren of Buncombe County, NC

Page 43

3. Samuel Janson Grimes was MISSPELLED as Samuel Jansen Grimes and and Page 43

IX. SAMUEL JANSON GRIMES was MISSPELLED as SAMUEL JANSEN GRIMES

Unresolved

"Curry Fanny Grimes" in the Table of Contents and on page 11 was changed to "Curry Fannie Grimes" to match her primary listing on page 12. The correct name for "Curry Fannie Grimes" or "Curry Fanny Grimes" is unresolved. All other instances of "Fannie" pertain to "Fannie Mae Grimes," daughter of Stephen Llewellyn Grimes beginning on page 35 and all other instances of "Fanny" pertain to "Fanny Culpepper," daughter of Willis Culpepper beginning on page 60.

Planned

The demonstration list of correction amendments on page 65 will remain; it will not exceed one page. Currently it includes all corrections. A would-be-expanded "List of corrections" will be offered in a separate file.
